Course Description:

Writing can be lonely, and motivating yourself to write, a challenge. Writing with others, and protecting time to write, can increase productivity and make writing more enjoyable. We meet on Wednesday mornings to set specific writing goals for the day, then meet again at 16.30 to share how our writing has gone that day. The idea is to inspire and support each other to keep writing. You can also book a short 1-2-1 between 10am and 11am to discuss general or specific writing problems. Please note: this group is most suitable for Y2 and Y3 researchers who are writing consistently over the six week period and can commit to turn up every week.
