

Course Code & Title	LISS235 Health Ethnography Reading Group
Convenor(s)	Rachel Faulkner-Gurstein, School of Population Health and Environmental Sciences Emma Goettke, School of Population Health and Environmental Sciences
Institution	King's College London	Department	Primary Care & Public Health Sciences
Academic Year	2019-20	Term	Spring
Number of Sessions	2	Length of Session(s)	1.5 hour
	Day, Date	Start : End	Room Location
	Wednesday 22 January 2020 (a) Thursday 05 March 2020 (b) Thursday 30 April 2020 (c)	15:00 – 16:30	7.02 Addison House, Guy's Campus
Enrolment Links:	22 Jan 2020: http://bit.ly/liss235a 05 Mar 2020: http://bit.ly/LISS235b 30 April 2020: http://bit.ly/LISS235c (You may be prompted to login to Skills Forge)

Course Description:

Ethnographic research is increasingly conducted to understand complex health problems and interventions, and this application raises new questions about what ethnography is, how it is conducted, how to address ethical questions that arise and what kinds of data are produced.

This reading group focuses on the critical reading of ethnographic research. Participants discuss methodological, epistemological and practical concerns related to doing ethnography in health and health services research.

An ethnographic research paper, book, or other material(s) will be circulated prior to each session. In order to gain access to the paper, please log into the Training Resource page on the LISS DTP website.

- For the January 22nd 2020 session only: Please contact Rachel.Faulkner-Gurstein@kcl.ac.uk directly to be sent the reading.

The reading group is open to anyone researching or interested in social studies of health, medicine and healthcare.

All meetings will be held in room 7.02 on the floor 7th floor of Addison House, KCL Guy's Campus. Please note that very unfortunately access to this room requires climbing one flight of stairs from the 6th floor, the room is not accessible via lift. If you would like to attend but have access requirements please be in touch with the organizers.

Reading List:

The reading list is available via Dropbox here: <http://bit.ly/LISS235-readinglist>.

London Interdisciplinary Social Science Doctoral Training Partnership

Advanced Research Methods in Social Sciences

Eligibility:

The reading group is open to anyone researching or interested in social studies of health, medicine and healthcare.

Pre course preparation:

The reading for that month's session

Number of students:

~20