

LISS DTP Studentship Application Form 2022 Entry - Open Competition +3

Guidance for completion

Please note that the form is not saved automatically if you navigate away from it.

You need to click on 'Finish later' at the bottom of the form page on which you are working and then use the 'finish later' URL provided to return to the form. Be careful to accurately enter your email address or bookmark the 'finish later' link to be able to resume the form.

We cannot reunite you with your unfinished form if you have lost your 'finish later' link.

We recommend that you prepare your longer answers in a program such as MS Word and then paste them into this online form. This will enable you to check character counts where questions have a maximum number of characters. (As a rough guide, 1000 characters is about 200 words.)

When you have submitted the form you are offered an opportunity to download a copy. This must be done within 15 minutes of submission.

+3 Studentships

The closing date for this application is Friday, 28 January 2022 at 17:00 GMT. Please refer to the guidance with each question and at www.liss-dtp.ac.uk/studentships while completing this form.

Please tell us about the status of your application for admission to a LISS DTP institution.

* Required

- I have applied and been accepted
- I have applied and am awaiting an admissions decision

You must apply to your preferred institution prior to submitting your LISS DTP application but it is not necessary to have been offered a place.

Name of your referee. * Required

Your reference must be from someone other than your proposed PhD supervisor who can comment on your potential for doctoral study. Please tell us the name of the person providing the reference. The reference must be emailed to lissapplications@kcl.ac.uk by the application deadline on the 28th January 2022 with 'student surname_referee surname_reference' in the subject line.

How will you be studying? * Required

- Full Time Part Time

Part-time must be 50%. No other percentages are allowed.

Are you applying for a studentship as a UK Home student or as an International (including EU)? * Required

- I am a Home student as defined in Annex One of the UKRI Guidance October 2020 I am an International student as defined in Annex One of the UKRI Guidance October 2020

Nationality and residency requirements for both Home and International students can be found in Annex One of the UKRI Guidance issued in October 2020. Please read this document to determine whether you will be classed as a Home or International student. Contact the Admissions team at the institution to which you have applied if you are uncertain of your status. LISS DTP is unable to advise on complex cases and will abide by your institution's assessment of your status.

Home students

To be classed as a home student, applicants must meet the following criteria:

- Be a UK National (meeting residency requirements), or
- Have settled status, or
- Have pre-settled status (meeting residency requirements), or
- Have indefinite leave to remain or enter

If you do not meet the above criteria you are classed as an International student, For further details please refer to Annex One of the UKRI Guidance issued in October 2020

International students

Following a UKRI announcement on the 20th August 2020, international students (including EU students) will be eligible for awards from October 2021 onwards. Applicants should note however that the ESRC will only provide fees at the UKRI home rate, so the difference between the UK rate (£4,500 for 2021/22) and the international rate will have to be met by the student, their institution or another source. LISS DTP institutions are waiving the fee difference for a limited number of international students. As at October 2021 we cannot guarantee that every international student offered a studentship will receive a waiver of the fee difference. Updates about international fees will be posted on the LISS DTP website as they become available.

Have you already started studying for a Phd?

Proposed Research

It is essential that you discuss your research proposal with your prospective supervisor. You should address:

- the theoretical background to the proposed/actual research and its relationship to previous work in the relevant field(s);
- the significance (scientific, intellectual, practical, etc.) of the proposed/actual research;
- the methodological approach and why it is appropriate to the aims of the project;
- how your proposed/actual research complements your previous experience and anticipates possible future research work;
- why you feel your project fits with your proposed/chosen supervisors' research, the strengths of the centre/department/division/School and the research pathways of LISS DTP.

We recommend you draft your Project Proposal in a program such MS Word to ensure you have a correct character count (max.10,000 characters including spaces). Entries over the work/character limit will be truncated.

Research Project Title * Required

Research Project Summary suitable for a general audience. * Required

Personal Statement

Please describe: Your reasons for applying; how the studentship relates to your career goals; how your previous study and/or experience has prepared you; why you deserve a studentship. * Required

Your answer should be no more than 3000 characters long.

Research Council Eligibility

If you have previously received Research Council funding, or have already had a period of full-time postgraduate training, please explain what this was and why you wish to engage in further postgraduate study.

LISS DTP Thematic Pathway (1-13): Please choose the Pathway with which your research is most closely associated. You can find full Pathway descriptions on the LISS DTP website here: www.liss-dtp.ac.uk/thematic-pathways * Required

- 1. Health Practices, Innovation & Implementation
- 2. Life Course, Psychology, & Health
- 3. Health, Biopolitics & Social Inequality
- 4. Economics, Finance & the World Economy
- 5. Work, Organisations & Business Management
- 6. Education, Mind & Society
- 7. Linguistics, Media & Culture
- 8. Urbanisation, Social Change & Urban Transformation
- 9. Political Ecology, Energy & Environmental Health
- 10. International Development, Conflict & Human Security
- 11. Global Order, Violence & Security Practice
- 12. Strategic, Regional, & Security Studies

13. Politics, Public Policy & Governance

ESRC Discipline Classification which best describes your research. You can see full details here: <http://www.esrc.ac.uk/funding/guidance-for-applicants/is-my-research-suitable-for-esrc-funding/discipline-classifications/> * Required

- Demography and/or human geography
- Development studies (area and development studies)
- Economics
- Economic history and/or social history
- Education
- Environmental planning
- Linguistics (applied linguistics, computational/corpus linguistics, psycholinguistics, sociolinguistics, languages & linguistics)
- Management & business studies
- Political science & international studies
- Psychology
- Social anthropology
- Social policy
- Social work
- Sociology (can include science & technology studies)
- Law & legal studies (including socio-legal studies)
- Tools, technologies & methods (social statistics, methods & computing)

Existing Core Research Methods Training

Please confirm that you have received training in core social science research methods, either at Masters level or through work experience. * Required

- I confirm that I have received core social science research methods training as specified at <https://lissdtp.ac.uk/studentships/core-training-requirements/> at Masters Level or through work experience

For further clarification on what is meant by 'core social science research methods training', see: <https://lissdtp.ac.uk/studentships/core-training-requirements/> If you have not already acquired at least 75% of the listed core research methods training by either of the means mentioned above you should not proceed with this application but apply for a 1+3 studentship instead.

Please provide details of all the social theory perspectives training that you received during postgraduate study or through work experience in the box below. Please provide module names/topics covered/number of course hours in the case of formal training. Please answer 'none' in this field if you do not have this kind of training/experience.

Please provide details of all the qualitative methods training that you received during postgraduate study or through work experience in the box below. Please provide module names/topics covered/number of course hours in the case of formal training. Please answer 'none' in this field if you do not have this kind of training/experience.

Please provide details of all the quantitative research methods training that you received through postgraduate study or through work experience in the box below.

Please provide module names/topics covered/number of course hours in the case of formal training. Please answer 'none' in this field if you do not have this kind of training/experience.

Potential for collaboration with non-academic organisations

If you think that your research could be relevant beyond higher education, please describe the ways in which it might engage with non-academic organisations. You may leave this section blank if you have not yet had a chance to consider external collaboration, or do not believe this to be applicable to your proposed research (max 1500 characters)

Your answer should be no more than 1500 characters long.

Advanced Quantitative Methods Training

AQM research goes beyond applying descriptive statistics and other basic generic (eg simple regression) and subject specific methods. The expectation for an AQM award is that the analysis will use quantitative methods that extend beyond the standard elements of quantitative research. The following is a non-exhaustive list of methods that could be considered AQM:

- multi-variate analysis using advanced regression techniques including for example tobit, multinomial, proportional hazards regression, Heckman selection models etc
- multi-leveilling modelling (equivalent to a random effects panel model)
- latent variable models, latent trait analysis
- structural equation modelling, path analysis
- factor analysis, components analysis, longitudinal or panel analysis, including fixed effects and random effects panel models, event history, duration modelling, survival analysis/hazard modelling (proportional hazards models)
- statistical techniques including for example weighting, imputation, complex sampling, bootstrapping, Bayesian MCMC estimation
- identification strategies for causal effects such as instrumental variable approaches, propensity score matching, regression discontinuity
- experimental approaches
- calibration and modelling techniques to do counterfactual analysis and test structural models.
- vector autoregressive modelling.
- simulation
- item response theory
- meta-analysis
- Markov switching models
- smooth transition autoregressive (STAR) and threshold autoregressive (TAR) models
- DSGE models

Will your research use quantitative methods that are regarded as advanced within your subject specialism? * Required

+ More info

Yes

No

If 'yes', please identify the methods and their contribution to your project (max 700 characters).

Your answer should be no more than 700 characters long.

Linguistic Proficiency

Will your research require proficiency in another language? * Required

Yes

No

If yes, please state what the language is, outline your existing competency and identify any training needs (max 700 characters). Please also read the ESRC's language groupings in Annex 2 of their Funding Guide- <http://www.esrc.ac.uk/files/skills-and-careers/studentships/postgraduate-funding-guide/> - and identify the grouping into which your language fits.

Your answer should be no more than 700 characters long.

Overseas Fieldwork

Will your research likely involve international travel (outside the UK) for fieldwork? *
Required

Yes

No

If yes, please outline where you will likely undertake fieldwork and for how long. We understand at this point this may be only indicative. (max 1500 characters) Please also confirm whether you are eligible for a visa to travel to this country and how your research plan would be amended if international travel were not possible.

+ More info

Your answer should be no more than 1500 characters long.

Interdisciplinarity

Interdisciplinarity can be interpreted as the use of more than one discipline across broad categories of knowledge such as: natural and social sciences, engineering/physical sciences and social science, computing science and social science, medical and social sciences, arts & humanities and social science etc.

If your project involves an interdisciplinary approach, please describe this (max 1500 characters).

Declaration

- I understand that if all the information below is not submitted by the deadline of 28 January 2022 17:00 GMT my application for funding will not be considered.

1. This LISS DTP Studentship application form.
 2. A statement of support from my supervisor on the online form on our Studentships webpage
 3. A reference from someone other than my supervisor emailed to lissapplications@kcl.ac.uk
 4. My academic transcripts emailed to lissapplications@kcl.ac.uk
- I have submitted an online admissions application for my proposed institution
 - I confirm that the information I have provided is complete and accurate to the best of my knowledge at this date.
 - I have read and I acknowledge the the UKRI Guidance October 2020 on eligibility.
 - I have read and acknowledge the UKRI Training Grant Terms and Conditions and eligibility requirements available here.
 - I have read and acknowledge the ESRC Postgraduate Funding Guide which can be found here.
 - I understand that any award given is conditional on the proposal receiving any necessary ethical approval from the University to which I have applied.
 - I understand that I am not guaranteed to receive funding for the research resources I am currently planning to use.
 - I understand that if I am an International student, any ESRC award will not cover the full International fee charged by my institution.
 - I authorise the LISS DTP to disclose to the UKRI and other LISS institutions any information that is relevant to my application.
 - I consent to LISS DTP using the email address I have supplied to send me information.
 - I consent to LISS DTP, UKRI and my University publishing information drawn from this application on their websites about myself, my research project and my supervisors if I am awarded a studentship.
 - I agree that LISS DTP and its member institutions can process my information and keep a copy of my application to collect statistics and detect and prevent fraud. The Data Protection Act allows you to ask us for a copy of all the information we have about your application.

Please indicate your agreement to the above. * Required

By submitting this form I agree to the above

Next steps

The next step is to ask your supervisor to submit the form to make a statement supporting your application.

You or your referee should email your reference to lissapplications@kcl.ac.uk with the following in the subject line: applicant name_referee name_reference

You should email your academic transcripts to lissapplications@kcl.ac.uk with the following in the subject line: applicant name_transcripts

You should also complete your admissions application to the university of your choice.

These steps must be completed by 17:00 GMT on Friday 28 January 2022. Reminders will not be issued

Please contact liss-dtp@kcl.ac.uk if you have any questions about the form or any part of this application process that are not covered by the guidance here or on the LISS web pages.

You will now be taken to the Equality & Diversity section of this application. You must complete this section in order to submit your application, but you are offered the opportunity to 'opt out' of answering each question and all answers to these questions will be kept anonymous and are not shared with reviewers.

Diversity Monitoring Form

LISS DTP and the ESRC are committed to equality of opportunity in our studentship selection processes. In order to evaluate our progress, we need to collect monitoring data.

The information you supply on this form will be kept confidential. The monitoring portion of this form will not be sent to reviewing panel members.

Please note: each question has the option to opt out of giving an answer.
